COMMITTEES TO AUSTIN

Committees from Hamlin, McCauley, Sylvester and Sweetwater will go to Austin Monday, the 21st, and appear before the Highway Commission in the interest of a road from Hamlin through McCauley and Sylvester to Sweetwater.

A meeting has already been had with Mr. French, Highway Engineer at Abilene, some days ago, and the meeting at Austin was arranged along about the same time. This is work in the right direction, but let us remember all such projects take time and effort.

HAMLIN MASONIC LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS

At a stated communication of Hamlin Lodge No. 958, A. F. & A. M. June 14, 1937, the following named were elected as officers for the ensuing Masonic year:

J. O. Hopper, W. M., R. B. Morgan, S. W., Ira A. Clements, J. W., J. W. Ezell, Treas., W. E. Benson, Secretary, V. V. Anderson, Tiler. All of these together with appointive officers will be installed at the next regular stated meeting, the same being Monday, July 12th, at 8:00 P. M. The D. D. G. M. of this Masonic District has been invited to be present and act as installing officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Martin and daughter, Miss Marian, left this week for Waco, where Mr. and Mrs. Martin will take a course of lectures on the treatment of diseases of poultry. Mr. and Mrs. Martin have just closed their greatest hatching season in their big new hatchery. Perhaps Mr. Martin knows as much as any person in this community about chickens, but that is not enough—he wants to know more—and the way to get information is to study in a great central clinic—that's his job this summer. Curtis means, not only to hatch chicks, but to be able to keep 'em well during early chickhood . . . in other words, a "back chick specialist."

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Ferrell and little daughters, Betty Clair and Virginia Ann, left Monday for Humble to spend their vacation and visit relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ferrell's mother, Mrs. Adams, who has spent the past month here and who was returning to her home in Humble.

Mrs. J. E. McCoy and little daughter, Jacqueline, left Sunday for Los Angeles, California, where they will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simpson and little daughter, Faith, visited Mr. Simpson's parents, in Clifton Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Annie Laurie Johnson left Wednesday for Greeley, Colorado, where she will do special work in the University.

W. F. Johnson has purchased the Lennie Walker property on Jackson Avenue, across the street from his home. Mr. Johnson will wreck the present building and build an eight room apartment house.

LIONS TO ASSEMBLE IN CHICAGO IN JULY

Chicago, June 15.—Ten thousand Lions and guests will assemble in Chicago for the annual international convention July 20-23, according to estimates of association officials, based on the large advance registration. Registrations already total nearly 3,000, and three of the city's largest hotels have been reserved to accommodate the conventionists.

Following an unusually successful year members of Lions Clubs on the American continents and in China are planning to attend in large numbers, traveling by special trains, boats, and automobile caravans.

A special Lions convention train will originate in nearly every part of the United States.

New England Lions will travel on an All-Lions Special leaving Boston July 18, it has been announced by Daniel Y. Rose, Providence, R. I., chairman of the New England convention committee.

New York will arrive in Chicago over the New York Central, leaving New York, Sunday, July 18, headed by George T. Elder, of Eltingville, S. L. New York, state district governor.

Texas Lions will travel on their Special over the MKT, picking up other state delegations, en route to Chicago. Burric C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Texas, is in charge of these arrangements.

West Coast Lions, always a strong delegation at these conventions, have arranged a Fourth District (California and Nevada) special over Southern Pacific lines, and the northwest states and western Canada have named the Chicago and North Western Railroad as their official route, with W. L. Mansfield, St. Paul, Minnesota, in charge.

Among the automobile caravans that will converge on the midwest metropolis for the Lions convention, will be a fifty car cavalcade from Florida, every machine painted in the royal Lions colors of purple and gold.

A four-day program including a major league ball game, moonlight lake cruise, city tours, juvenile band contests, and a full two-hour mid-summer ice carnival has been arranged by Chicago Lions, in addition to the regular business sessions.

WORK OF CLUB WOMEN

WILL BE ON DISPLAY

Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Magee and daughter, Miss Kathryn, spent last week at Harlingen visiting their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Wilhite, Jr. They also visited other Valley towns and into Matamoras, Mexico. Mrs. Carlton Parker and children also were with them.

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Wilson returned Monday from Pecos where they visited their daughter, Mrs. J. D. Greenway and family.

ENCAMPMENT WILL OPEN MONDAY AT LUEDERS

The annual Baptist Encampment will open Monday morning, June 21, at the encampment grounds near Lueders, and will continue through the following Sunday, June 27.

During the past few weeks buildings have been repaired and many of them repainted. The grounds have been placed in good condition and everything provided for the needs and comforts of the many visitors who will be in attendance during the week.

Among outstanding church men who will attend the camp are Dr. R. L. Yearby of El Paso and Dr. R. C. Campbell of Dallas, Baptist state secretary. Vesper services each evening on the river bank will be conducted by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien of Stamford.

Music will be directed by Prof. R. E. Reynolds, a member of the Baptist seminary faculty at Fort Worth, and Mrs. Reynolds. Swimming instructors will be Mary Frances Moore for girls and Finis Williams for boys.

Rev. Henry Littleton, business manager for the encampment, will be in charge of the camp cafeteria. Meals will be priced at 35 cents or $1.00 per day.

NEINDA HOME DEM. CLUB

The club met in the home of Mrs. L. F. Cozzen Wednesday, June 9.

The subject for the program was "A Pleasant Smile Pays Big Dividends."

Mrs. Cozzen gave a talk on "Good Looks."

Mrs. Charlie Bingham talked on "Making Yourself as Happy as Can be by Simple Practical Means of Grooming."

The talks were very interesting. Miss Martin could not be with us at this meeting. June 29 was set for the bed room demonstration at the home of Mrs. Chambers. We invite everyone to be present on that day. Our club will have a large number of scarfs on exhibit Saturday, June 19.

We wish you would pass through and see some of what our club is doing. That will be Saturday, June 19, at Hamlin in one of the vacant buildings.

WATCH YOUR FOODS, DRINKS

Dispensers of bottled foods and beverages are warned by the state department of health at Austin that steps should be taken to protect the public from possible seepage of contaminated water into the container.

In many instances, the note read, milk and other products in milk bottles with paper stoppers as well as other bottled goods have been found completely submerged in water. This water sometimes has not been changed for several days. Hands of attendants and customers have been plunged into the water making it comparable to a lavatory without the possible germicidal effect of soap.

This is a violation of the Texas Food and Drug law. Article 707-section 6. This article reads "xxx in case of foods, wherein it is required that reasonable means shall be used by all persons offering food for sale to protect same from flies, dirt and other foreign matter or injurious contamination."

NOTE: The above warning will no doubt do much to remind folks that, maybe after all, there is a lack of sanitation in many drink boxes. Once upon a time fount boys handled ice from hand to glass—not so much now.

Another warning recently given was that "any person with any kind of contagious disease must at once stop handling foods and drinks. Good laws—both.

BROWNFIELD HOST TO 5TH

ANNUAL PANHANDLE- PLAINS SINGING SESSION

Brownfield, Texas, June 14.—A crowd of from 6,000 to 10,000 people are expected here Saturday and Sunday, June 19-20, when the Panhandle-Plains Singing Convention stages their 5th annual convention. This is said to be the largest regional singing convention in Texas, and probably anywhere else. It embraces the area of the entire Texas Panhandle and south Plains to the T. & P. Railroad, and includes 18 Texas counties.

Preparation are now under way to care for this huge multitude, especially those from a distance. The business and professional men, as well as the public in general are responding liberally in cash donations as well as in other ways, to provide for the thousands of visitors. Around 8,000 attended the convention at Lamesa two years ago.

Committees of every description, under the direction of Clyde Lewis, who is the Vice-President of the convention, is working with clock like precision, that there may be nothing lacking toward entertaining the visitors.

Individual singers of wide reputation, as well as trios, quartettes, etc., are expected from far and near, among which will be the Stamps aggregation from Dallas, as well as many others almost equally as well known.

Mrs. Elsie Malone McCollum Pioneer of the McCaulley Country

When the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad built its line from Sweetwater, Texas, to Altus, Oklahoma, in 1906, the little town of McCaulley, named for one of the road's promoters, was established some thirty-two miles northeast of Sweetwater in the eastern part of Fisher County.

As was characteristic of new towns in the West in those days many people from many sections rushed in to buy farms, open business ventures and establish new homes. In a short time the population reached some thousand souls. Among these were many of the most substantial and cultured from other states as well as from many sections of Texas.

The first concern of this community was the education of their youth together with religious environment. Hence a good public school, and churches of the various denominations were organized and began functioning at once. It is not surprising, therefore, that during the thirty-one years of her history we find that some 150 of her sons and daughters have had college and university training and that numbered among this list we find college presidents, university professors, high school superintendents and teachers, ministers of the gospel, lawyers, legislators, physicians, authors, bankers, substantial farmers, stockmen and home builders, all serving well in their varied fields.

Among the pioneer settlers who contributed unselfishly to the religious and intellectual cultures of this community is a quiet, modest, attractive little old lady, Mrs. Elsie Malone McCollum, affectionately called by her admirers Mother McCollum, who lingers among her family and friends at the age of 78 as a constant benediction.

Notable among the many pupils who have come under the tutorage of Mrs. McCollum we mention the following: Dr. W. W. Jackson, president of the University of San Antonio; Miss Ora Stephenson, teacher in Port Arthur high school; Ernest Jackson, principal of Beaumont high school; Mrs. C. P. Yates, teacher of speech-art, McCaulley; Mrs. Fred Parker, teacher of speech-art, Roby; Prof. W. A. Stephenson, Hardin-Simmons University; Dr. Carl C. Rister, head of history department, University of Oklahoma; Howard C. Davison, member of Texas legislature, Rotan; and Mrs. W. C. Jackson, teacher in McCaulley public school. Mrs. Jackson, the former Neta Peacock, graduated under Mrs. McCollum at the age of 16; entered Simmons College immediately afterwards and after three weeks in Simmons mod a medal in dramatic speech over thirteen contestants. Her winning number was Mark Twain's "Literary Nightmare," one of the classics she had learned to interpret as a pupil of Mrs. McCollum.

During her years of active teaching Mrs. McCollum was in demand as a public reader and entertainer,

Mrs. Elsie Malone McCollum

Elsie Malone, daughter of a Methodist minister and college president, Benjamin Hix Malone, was born in Clarksville, Tenn., in 1859. Graduated from Clarksville Female Academy; Curry School of Expression, Boston, and Vanderbilt University. Taught English, mathematics, and dramatic art in colleges at Winchester and Waverly, Tenn., of which schools her father was president. Married to Levi McCollum June 25, 1885, in Tennessee.

The McCollums moved to Haskell, Texas, in 1897, where Mrs. McCollum gave private lessons in dramatic speech art until 1906 when the family removed to McCaulley, where she again resumed her teaching until 1917. In 1914 she suffered a paralytic stroke which hampered her in her efforts to carry on her teaching, and in recent years she has lived in giving program appearances in many assemblies.

Mrs. McCollum is the author of one published book, Pieces and Plays for All Ages, and four in manuscript ready for publisher. Titles of these: The Long-Ago Land, or Stories of Children of the Bible for Children of Today; Essays; Rhymes, Games, Puzzles, and Plays for Children and Young People; and a Book of Verse.

Mrs. McCollum's husband died in 1921. Their two children, a daughter, Elsie Lee, and a son, Levi Jr., live with their mother in the beautiful home built by the husband and father in 1906. Levi Jr., is manager of McCollum Dry Goods Company, established in 1914. He and his wife, the former Florence May, have one child, Mary Ann, age 8.

Hopper Motor Co.

citizens of McCaulley named Mrs.

McCullum as guest of honor at a banquet at the First Baptist church, sponsored by the Booster Club, which was attended by some seventy-five of her neighbors, intimate friends and former pupils. Many tributes were paid her by these, as well as by others who were unable to be present but who wrote or wired their felicitations. Of those present who responded with ward of appreciation and literary readings we mention: Mrs. C. P. Yates, Mrs. Fred Parker, Mrs. Effie Gladden, of Rotan, and Mrs. W. C. Jackson, Mrs. Nash Miers gave a piano selection and a mixed quartette composed of Messrs. D. L. Smith and V. W. Jackson, and Misses Helen Smith and Millie Drennan, gave three vocal numbers.

Of the personal tributes of those not able to attend we quote the following: President W. W. Jackson of the University of San Antonio: "I am truly grateful for the privilege of sharing in the program honoring Mrs. Elsie McCollum. It was for several years between 1907-1911 that I was a member of her Sunday School class, and in my maturity I pay high tribute to the inspiring quality of her teaching and the beauty of her character. I have often said that she is one of the most talented and cultured women I have ever met anywhere. In tact, poise and understanding people she stands in my memory as one among thousands. Her genuine concern for humanity and her untiring devotion toward the building of the kingdom of righteousness on earth mark her as one in ten thousand. Bernard Shaw said that a gentleman is one who puts into life more than he expects to get out of it. With the same definition applied, Mrs. McCollum certainly has unqualified right to be called a lady in the highest and finest sense of the word. I can think of no one more justly entitled to hear the words, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant" than she."

Miss Mattie Randolph, Lubbock: "One of the most beautiful things in life is to give honor and appreciation where it is due. It is most fitting that we pay tribute to Mrs. McCollum who has so nobly dedicated her time, her energy and her life to the moulding of character of the youth of this little city. Her understanding, sympathy and encouragement made my girlhood happy, and the influence of her teachings have lingered with me throughout the years. Any degree of success that I may have attained I owe in large measure to her. The memory of the pleasant association with her is very dear and sacred to me."

Miss Ora Stephenson, Port Arthur: "How happy I am that McCaulley is honoring Mrs. McCollum tonight. She truly deserves it. Her love and interest have been an inspiration to me. I count it one of life's greatest blessings to have you for my friend. May this occasion be full of happiness for you.

Mrs. Fannie Bynum Nickless, McCaulley: "My thoughts are with you this evening in love and gratitude for what you did for me as a teacher and friend."

Dr. Carl C. Rister, Norman, Okla.: "The greatest cultural asset of McCaulley is Mrs. Elsie Malone McCollum. Her influence on my life is incalculable."

Mr. and Mrs. Sam N. Hardy, Memphis, Texas: "There is no one in the McCaulley community more deserving of honor than Mrs. McCollum. She has rendered the greatest service of any one."

McCAULEY MATTERS

(By JOHN P. HARDESTY)

Rev. J. R. Bateman, Methodist pastor, is attending a ten day school for pastors at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, which began Monday. Bro. Bateman informs the writer that the meeting scheduled to begin at Neinda the first Sunday in July has been postponed one week.

Word has been received that Wick Miers, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Miers, has been made manager of a gin company at Balmorhea. This is a year-round position. It will be remembered by Wick's friends that he lost an arm in a gin accident some months ago. We are glad to know that he has been promoted to this good position. In last week's write-up of the funeral service for B. E. Miers this writer inadvertently left off the name of Wick as one of the brothers surviving. The writer deeply regrets this error.

Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Bateman are enjoying the privilege of having their daughter, Miss Mary Ellen, at home with them for the summer. She has been teaching at Reagan, Texas. She has secured a position in the Terrell schools for next year.

A book review was given Thursday evening at the Methodist Church by Mrs. J. M. Steele of Rule. A supper was served by the Methodist ladies.

In the county rally of the B. Y. P. U. at Sardis last Friday night, McCauley B. Y. P. U. was awarded the attendance banner for the ensuing month. Miss Frances Mills of McCauley, was elected president of the Union for next term, and the July meeting is to be held at McCauley the second Friday night of the month. Miss Ina Burke, retiring president, was elected sponsor for the Intermediates, and a meeting to organize them into a county-wide rally is called to meet at Sylvester on the afternoon of the fourth Sunday in June at 4 o'clock.

There will be a special service at the Baptist church next Sunday in honor of "Father's Day." Appropriate music selections and a sermon for fathers will be given. Fathers should make it a point to attend and help to make the day worthwhile.

Miss Ora Stephenson, teacher in Port Arthur schools, is home to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Davis went to Abilene Wednesday to take their foster son, Don, to the Hendrick Memorial Hospital, where he is to receive treatment. The little boy is After registering in the attractive bride's book guests were invited into the dining room where cakes and punch were served from an attractively decorated table.

The guest list included Mes. L. M. Pylate, Arah Riney, O. L. Jenkins, J. D. Burk, W. A. Norris, Weldon Carter, Geo. R. Nicholson, R. R. Holley, Chas. Bennett, W. H. Dean, Misses Arba Graham, Inez Howard, Doris Steed, Ethel Tindal and Adelaide Jenkins.

Mark Twain once talked of gratitude. He said he did not care for gratitude of the noisy, boisterous kind. "Why," he exclaimed, "when some men discharge an obligation you can hear the report for miles around."

Hamlin, Texas.

DENTON. — A strange combination of deserts, canyons and fertile valleys awaits the visitor who heads down from Lubbock to the land "West of the Pecos." Possibly the most interesting route is across the line into New Mexico, where Carlsbad Caverns provide interest and beauty.

Swinging back into Texas by way of Guadalupe Peak and into El Paso, the traveler may catch his first view of Old Mexico in the city of Juarez, with its ancient missions and motley population. Immediately south of El Paso the cultivated areas of the Rio Grande Valley appear, and in the midst of the oldest community in the state are the missions of Ysleta and Socorro.

Southeastward the Davis mountains, rising a mile above sea level, are famed for their scenic beauty, healthy climate and historical importance. Here also is Mount Locke, where the University of Texas is building the McDonald Observatory with the second largest telescope in American.

No good Texan can skip a detour into the Big Bend country down in the southern tip of this western section. The continually producing Shafter silver mine is located here, and farther on are the impressive Los Chisos (The Ghosts) mountains. After a good look at the Santa Helena Canyon of the Rio Grande with its 1,800-foot walls, the visitor can well understand why the state is trying to acquire enough land in this territory for a state park. Two hundred and fifty thousand acres of the proposed 1,000,000 acre tract has already been acquired, and the Mexican government is planning to match the Texas acreage with land just across the border. The completed international park will include 2,000,000 acres.

PRACTICAL FARM RELIEF

The National Association of Food Chains has issued a highly interesting booklet entitled "Practical Farm Relief—One Year of Cooperative Progress," dealing with the various producer-consumer campaigns carried on by 37,000 chain stores in the 48 states.

These campaigns came into being as the result of a conference between the chain managements and representatives of the National Cooperative Council, which speaks for hundreds of thousands of organized farmers. So far, special campaigns to move surpluses of canned peaches, beef, dried fruits, turkeys, lambs, and other products have been carried on—and, according to spokesmen for farmers' groups, have been highly successful in every instance. They have stabilized prices, disposed of tremendous quantities of produce, and opened up new, permanent markets for agriculture.

Every conceivable type of advertising and promotion is used in the campaigns. Newspapers, handbills, the radio, store and window pennants, posters, show case displays, recipes—these are only a few of the devices employed to interest the consumer. All the expense—and it is heavy—is borne by the chains, and not one cent is asked or received from such cooperating farm organizations.

Such campaigns are possible only when a large number of organized retail outlets are available. The full selling effort of 37,000 stores can be thrown behind a campaign in an incredibly short time. In the beef campaign, for example, just 35 days elapsed between the request for assistance by worried growers and the opening of the sale. The turkey sale was rolling in even faster time. More such campaigns will be carried on periodically in the future. They represent sound, successful and practical farm relief. — Industrial News Bureau.

KNOW TEXAS

By F. L. McDONALD, T. S. C. W. NEWS BUREAU, DENTON

Denton June 10. —Summer travelers who feel the call of the "wide open spaces" must, of course, look to the West to find a vacation spot. Texas Panhandle painted with the glowing colors of its cowboy legends, offers a varied bill of fare to the visitor.

Probably the most inclusive route through the Northwest section of the state begins at Fort Worth on Federal highways 81 and 370, passes on through Wichita Falls to Amarillo. After a circle of the Panhandle, it turns south through Plainview and Lubbock.

Remains of ancient Indian cultures are glimpsed by the tourist in the interesting old town of Tascosa and Old Mobeetie up in the eastern corner. Then, travelling along the scenic Canadian river and southward he comes upon the land which formed the well-known XIT ranch, a 3,000,000 acre tract which was paid for the building of the state capitol. Just a remnant now remains.

Another large tract is the Goodnight ranch in the lower Palo Duro Valley southeast of Amarillo. Nearby is a state park of 15,000 acres, and also a museum of relics collected by the Panhandle Historical Society.

Although most of the great old ranches are being replaced by fields of wheat and cotton, and more recently by oil and gas fields, between the high plains and Fort Worth are four ranches large enough to deserve mention—Spur, 6666, Matador, and Waggoner. In the nearby towns rodeos are held throughout the summer.

The territory of most historical importance is around Albany, Throckmorton and Graham, where Fort Richardson, Belknap and Griffin are located. These are among the most famous of the old frontier forts.

TEXAS COWBOY REUNION WILL PRESENT NEW FEATURES

STAMFORD, June 16.—A junior cowboy contest, limited to lads under 12 years of age, will be a new feature of this year's Texas Cowboy Reunion which meets in Stamford July 1, 2 and 3. Winner of first place will receive a special made saddle, presented by Jack M. Little of Dallas. Second prize will be a pair of chaps.

Dr. Dallas Southard is chairman of the committee in charge of the new feature. The junior cowboys will be judged largely on the riding ability of the boy and the performance of his horse. The contestant's riding togs and equipment and the appearance of the horse also will be taken into consideration.

The addition of this contest practically completes the program for the Reunion. Performances of the rodeo in which actual cowhands compete in calf-roping, wild-cow-milking, bronc and steer riding, will be held morning, afternoon and night each of the three days.

Special features include the cutting-horse contest, original with the Texas Cowboy Reunion rodeo, on the morning of July 2, and a calf-roping contest for cowboys over 55 years of age on the afternoon of the same day. A junior steer-riding contest for boys under 14 will be held at the night performances on July 2 and 3.

Judging of the cowgirls sponsors representing the various towns and cities will begin on the first day. Award of prizes to the most typical cowboy over 55 years of age and the most typical one under 55 will be announced on the third day. The old fiddlers' contest will begin at 8:30 A. M. on July 3rd.

A spectacular feature of the Reunion, the grand parade, will move through the streets of the city starting at 11:00 A. M. on Friday, July 2. Cowboy parades will be held on the other two days of the show.

Sponsors' dances will be held each night at the new pavilion on the Reunion grounds, while square dances will be conducted at the Cowboy Bunkhouse. Sessions of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association, composed of old time cowboys, will be held at the bunkhouse on the mornings of the first and last day. The members of this organization will be entertained around the chuck wagon at noon each day.

As usual, West Texas ranches are being invited to bring their chuck wagons and camp in the chuck wagon area.

Improvements on the Reunion grounds costing $10,000 have been practically completed. The Reunion opens one day earlier than usual this year to avoid operating on Sunday, which falls on July 4.

Mrs. Grogan Turner and son, Grogan, Jr., are spending the week in Sweetwater visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lester Turner.

The wise give advice cautiously, the foolish give it freely.

PLASTERCO 4-H CLUB

"Birds being trained for the show should have plenty of mash and grain but not an excess of yellow corn," said Jewell Hipp, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent to the Plasterco 4-H Club girls June 10, at the home of Maurine Griffin.

"Yellow corn fed to white varieties of birds may cause the feathers to be creamy."

"Slip stitch is used in putting the hem in slips and dresses," Miss Hipp stated, "being careful to take only one or two threads of the material as you take a stitch so the stitches will not show on the right side."

Eight members and the Assistant Agent were present. The next meeting will be with the sponsor, Mrs. Ted Armstrong at the home of Velta Parker, June 24th at 2:30 P. M.

HUDSON CHIEF

H. MURRAY NORTHRUP
Chief Engineer
Hudson Motor Car Company

The engineering fraternity has been watching with keen interest the progress made by automotive technicians on the transmission problem, particularly from the standpoint of driver control. For over ten years this development has been gathering momentum and intensity with the result that tremendous progress has been made.

Among the more valuable results achieved to date is included the ability to pre-select the gear and automatically shift without touching the clutch pedal or using left foot—a method that we have named the "selective automatic shift," and it is exclusive with our system. No other system so far announced can boast of this feature which makes driving so much simpler and easier.

With this system there is no need to touch the clutch pedal when coming to a complete stop, in starting or going into reverse gear. Clutch action under all these circumstances as well as in changing gears is fully automatic. The left need never be used in the operation of the car even when quick stops are made or in working the car out of a confined space.

In the great variety of transmission designs that have been studied during the past few years, we have come to consider the fully automatic transmission without any hand control at all, as too complicated for practical purposes on passenger cars. Furthermore with these fully automatic types there are times when the driver must stay in a definite gear against his judgment or wishes. On the other hand the semi-automatic types with finger control and those particularly which combine the features of automatic clutch action with the replacement of the gearshift lever by a small lever beneath the steering wheel, controlled by a flick of the finger, are successful.

The Hudson Motor Car Company has nearly three years experience behind it with this selective automatic type of transmission which includes the Electric Hand unit. About 130,000 Hudsons and Terraplanes have been driven by their owners to a total of well over a thousand million miles equipped with the Electric Hand Unit which has been offered as a standard option since 1935 models were introduced. It has shown itself easy to service because the control mechanism added to the standard type of sliding selective gear, is simple and easily understood.

Experienced drivers enjoy the added flexibility of control and the more rapid acceleration provided by the quick and smooth passage through the gears. There is nothing new for the driver to learn—he uses the same procedure as always with the added advantages of the system. New drivers as well as old like it for the reason that there is no groping for a shifting lever while steering. With one hand. Shifts are made by a momentary lift of the foot from the accelerator into the gear pre-selected by finger-tip control of the selector lever under the steering wheel. It is not necessary to touch the clutch pedal under any circumstances. The ability to pre-select the gear at any time is one that appeals to all types of drivers. It adds greatly to the flexibility of control and it is a real safety device. When the gear is pre-selected the actual shift is lightning-fast, a lift of the toe from the accelerator and the shift is made.

There are definite sets of circumstances when it is positively dangerous to relinquish the steering wheel with one hand while shifting down from high to second. Trips through winding mountain roads provide this danger frequently. The automatic selective transmission meets this situation perfectly because the hand does not have to leave the wheel, nor the eyes leave the road and, last and most important, the down shift is made quickly and positively putting the car into absolute control with the full braking effect of the engine compression available. Even under less drastic circumstances it is not always safe to have but one hand on the wheel. This type of transmission offers a great gain in safety from that standpoint alone.

An interesting by-product of the new type of transmissions introduced by Hudson and more recently by others is that fact that the front shift lever. The car of today has been designed for three-passenger front seats, but no front seat is a three-passenger design that has a gearshift lever in the center. By taking out the shifter lever and placing the hand brake under the cowl, that goal of many years, a clear front compartment, is achieved.
